A DRAMATIC SCENE

Maurel Faced By Capt Frey-

James, Aug. 25.—When the trial of Capt. Dreyfus of the artillery on the charge of treason began this morning at the Lycee, M. Alphonse Bertillon, expert of the anthropometric department, as chief prosecutor of the court-martial, advanced a theory which the prisoner, namely, in the Dreyfus case, was seized at the war office, and in which had been traced. As he proceeded the audience became imbedded in parenthesis. His lecture, delivered in funeral tones, was intended to show that the military only had the most cursory attention to the examples submitted. One of the most striking documents was handed to Dreyfus who closely scrutinized it and returned the paper with a disdainful shrug of his shoulders and a faint utterance of "Yes." In analyzing the results of his test, M. Bertillon said: "Fully understanding the responsibility of my soul and conscience, I declare that the bordereau is the work of the prisoner." (See page 2.)

Dreyfus heard this unmoved.

The court-martial, which had again appealed to the handwriting of the prisoner and that of Estherazy, to which he replied that since M. Estherazy may have practiced imitation, was unable to tell in order to render possible his substitution for himself for the prisoner. In support of this theory, M. Bertillon called a French army expert, who alleged his hypotheses in regard to Estherazy. There were many points of difference between the two experts. The witness writing there were certain calligraphic signs which he asserted, had been found in reproductions of the document in question. The court-martial, however, did not accept his evidence.

Estherazy, however, M. Bertillon, he was of the same mind, and a sounder, he said, have sold this since the commencement of the Zola trial.

There was a sharp cross-examination in court at this remark, which was made by the witness, who declared that the bordereau is the prisoner's.

Dreyfus heard him without flinching and with an expression of disdain, which he showed in a still more noticeable manner than the bordereau.

The judges paid close attention to his documents, which were read at 25 a. m., witness saying in a decisive tone: "I am convinced the writer of the bordereau is the prisoner."

AT WEST DULUTH

Duluth Furnace Company Secures Cincinnati Mine and Will Operate It.

BEGIN WORK AT ONCE

T. J. Jones Has Gone Up to Get the Property In Shape.

The Duluth Furnace company, which operates the West Duluth blast furnace, has secured control of the Cincinnati mine on the Muscatine range at Biwabik and is about to begin work on some 200,000 tons of iron ore. A subcontract has been let to T. J. Jones, superintendent of the Biwabik mine, in the early days, to place the property in shape for shipment. Mr. Jones went up to Biwabik yesterday to begin the work. He expects to have the mine equipped with machinery and ready to produce ore in six weeks. He will then go to the mine with the mine will end. He says it will make shipments of about 200 tons per day, which will no doubt be continued through the winter.

The Cincinnati has had a varied career, and when Henry Roberts pulled all the machinery out of the property, he sold it, and it was sold to a general broker, who then sold it to Mr. Jones.

Mr. Jones says, however, there is lots of work left on the property, and that he expects that more will be revealed as development proceeds.

WHILST MAKE ALTERATIONS.

It is reported that important alterations are to be made in the steaming plant, which will be used to enable the company to make a large part of the entire upper floor, a portion of which is now used in the living room. The alterations being made are secret, so that when the changes are made this will be the largest hall in town, and will be a great convenience to West Duluth people.

TOOK BLOWN'S SERVICES.

PRETENDER IS SOLD.

Long Island Man Buys Tommy Michael's Cocker Spaniel.

Mr. Thayer, a police officer, has sold his famous cocker spaniel, Pretender, to Arnold Thayer, of Roslyn, L. I., for the sum of $200. Nothing was farther from the mind of Tommy's mother than to sell her dog to another. Mr. Thayer walked into her home and said that he had seen the dog while driving past the kennel, and that he would like to purchase it. She said that she had never seen a dog which pleased him so much. Tommy smiled and replied that he had no objection to his dog being sold.

"Well, how much?" said Mr. Thayer. "Two hundred dollars," responded Tommy.

Mr. Thayer turned to his hackman and told him to drive back and get the dog for him to look over again. The dog was brought over, and Mr. Thayer said that he would like to buy it. Tommy said that he had enough confidence in himself to break his engagement for this afternoon and to go to the kennel.

THE CYCLONE REPORTED.

Kingston, Jamaica, Aug. 26.—The island of Martinique reports a cyclone forming south and moving towards Dominica and Guadalupe.

A robust, manly son and a cooing baby are nestled in a cradle. The woman, who more can any woman ask? It is a common that I can be granted to every woman.

She is a woman in a womanly way. The health of a woman's babies is dependent upon her own health during the time of prospective maternity.

The expectant mother can be particularly about her physical condition if she suffers from local weakness, nervousness or lack of vigor. Her vitality, her strength and her health, pain, etc., Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only unfailing surety for a weakness and disease of the genital organs, especially that bear the load of maternity. It tickles these organs strong, healthy, vigorous, virile and elastic. It makes the prospect of a healthy and robust offspring a certainty of its perils. It assures a healthy constitution to the expectant mother.

DULUTH'S SOCIETY

Mrs. W. J. Olcott entertained a number of the young matrons and young ladies Thursday afternoon at her home on Superior street. The party was something of a novelty. Each of the guests was given a buttonhole to work and when they were all completed they were judged and prizes awarded. The prize for the most perfect buttonhole was awarded to Miss Margaret Graff and the second prize to Mrs. A. W. Speyers. Miss Boshore, of St. Louis, was given the booby prize. During the afternoon Miss Jeanne Thomas sang. Miss Agnes, of St. Louis, gave piano and violin numbers. The house was very prettily decorated and the table was very handsome. It was decorated with peacock feathers and candelabra. Mrs. Olcott was assisted in receiving by Miss Olcott and Mrs. Carpenter.

Miss Charles A. Duncan, of 131 West Superior, last evening gave a large party yesterday afternoon in her house, decorated with flowers and green and was very pretty. Six-handed euchre was played and the game prize was won by Mrs. C. C. Hinsdale. The game prize by Mrs. Ed Mendenhall. An orchestra played during the afternoon.

Franz Schultz gave a concert under the auspices of the German club in Superior last Wednesday. He was assisted by Miss Agnes, of St. Louis, and Mrs. Hoechert, from Duluth. The Evening Telegram speaks of Mr. Schultz's says:

The concert, which was a great success, was Franz Schultz, whose bass voice shows the fine cultivation which it has undergone for several years under the best masters. The voice was of great richness and depth and he has wonderful control of the low notes. Each number was generally received with a round of applause.

Two arias from Handel's oratorio, "Messiah," were given by Mr. Schultz with great expression and beauty. At the end of the first part he sang live and in succession the best of which were Smith's setting of "Dwelt by me Blame" and Schubert's "Ave Maria."

Mr. Schultz will be heard in concert at Hastings on Wednesday evening, Sept. 6, at Turner Hall. He will be assisted by Miss Agnes, of St. Louis, and George S. Tyler, C. C. Shepard, Harry Gearhart, Mr. and Mrs. Hoeschert and ladies' quartet.

Despite the inclemency of the weather, Tuesday, a large number of ladies attended the concert given by Mrs. James Stuart, Alcott, at her summer residence on Park Point. Park Commissioners Complete Contract For Bridge on Boulevard.

Next year's trip traveling over Duluth's boulevard will see a fine steel bridge, a triumph in the line of architecture, spanning the picturesque Coffee Creek in the place of the present rustic log structure, which has seen better days.

Yesterdays afternoon the board of park commissioners awarded the contract for one new bridge to the Wisconsin Bridge company, of Milwaukee. The work of tearing down the old and erecting the new will be done in the winter, and the dredging of the creek, out the dredge of the old bridge, out the new bridge, will be done in the spring, so as to be ready for the opening of the new season next year.

The bridge will be 100 feet long, and the roadway will be twenty feet wide. There will be three spans of fifty-two feet each, resting on rubble masonry pedestals and abutments, and capped with a flat top. The cost of the bridge, or the new bridge will be $3792, and it promises to be a thing of beauty and of value for at least thirty years.

State Board of Health Notifies City Health Department to Require It.

When the Duluth public schools open next month, pupils will be admitted, with the first having been vaccinated. This has been ordered by the state board of health, and will be enforced by the city health department with the co-operation of the board of education. The precaution of having all public school children vaccinated is taken by the state board of health on account of the prevalence of smallpox in various parts of the world.

Ex-Officer Dr. H. M. Bracken, of the Minnesota state board of health, notified Health Officer Webster this morning that the certificates of vaccination were to be required before they are admitted to the public schools.

The case of McKinley & Nichols against the receiver of the Northern Lumber and Investment company and others, seven defendants, was filed this morning by the state board of health on account of the prevalence of smallpox in various parts of the world.

"Smallpox is still prevalent in the city and is very important that all children should be vaccinated before they are admitted to the public schools this fall." At the July meeting of the state board, the following resolution was adopted:

"In view of the fact that smallpox is prevalent in a great extent over the entire country, it is dangerous to the health of the population in this state to have the infection in this state."

"It is resolved, that all the schools throughout the state, at the fall opening, require vaccination of all pupils on admission to the schools, but that the first fall term that the state of Duluth has been the healthiest city in the country and there was no need for taking precautions against infection, the health will only require a recent vaccination.

"There is a resolution on the file of the board of education which directs all pupils to be vaccinated on admission to the schools, but that the first fall term that the state of Duluth has been the healthiest city in the country and there was no need for taking precautions against infection, the health will only require a recent vaccination.

"It is the opinion of the board of education that the public schools in the city have been receiving the best of care and attention, and the work of the resolution, even if the vaccination has been given as many as twenty chances in half an hour without putting a single dry."

An Odd Fly Trap.

A fly trap is on exhibition in Stock & Co's Annex street window, and has attracted considerable attention by passers-by. The fly trap is a mouse trap, with a fly on top of it, in appearance, but with an extraordinary appetite for flies. He will run out of his hole and wait for a fly to light on the top of the trap, then jump up and pull his victim down and then run down in his hole again. People who have seen the performance say that the mouse has acquired as many as twenty chances in half an hour without putting a single dry.

The fly trap is a mouse trap, with a fly on top of it, in appearance, but with an extraordinary appetite for flies. He will run out of his hole and wait for a fly to light on the top of the trap, then jump up and pull his victim down and then run down in his hole again. People who have seen the performance say that the mouse has acquired as many as twenty chances in half an hour without putting a single dry.

SOME FALL FASHIONS

Battle on Between the Dot and the Plaid-- Details That Mark the Woman of Fashion Nowadays.

EMPIRE GOWN IS COMING

On the principle that the early bird catches the first worm, many sun-browned women come quietly into town these latter days of summer in order to keep a sharp lookout for the first samples of autumn goods, says the New York Sun. This is a policy that pays, for every year the merchants anticipate the season more and more, and she who does the bulk of her shopping now does the rush buying before the epoch of the fall dash. And looks herself trust the dressmaker. There is already, for example, no small amount of sight seeing to be done around the world, and the various new looks are displayed and the impression one receives, after a study of the newcomers, is that there is a battle on between the plaid and the dot. Highland plaids as we knew them a few years ago have nothing to do with this new look, and both have the wide fabric of satin or selected mink or silver fox. Fox, opera capes that portion of the interior that lies about the girdle, and the hat with the drossmakin. There is already, for example, no small amount of sight seeing to be done around the world, and the various new looks are displayed and the impression one receives, after a study of the newcomers, is that there is a battle on between the plaid and the dot. Highland plaids as we knew them a few years ago have nothing to do with this new look, and both have the wide fabric of satin or selected mink or silver fox. Fox, opera capes that portion of the interior that lies about the girdle, and the hat with the drossmakin.

To be explicit, the material itself is usually a thick, soft emerald dyed in a bright green, and the various new looks and right angles can range from red and green, yellow and gray, blue and mudblue, that are just now in vogue, to a brown and tan, than the haly of the goods. Very sympathetic and autumnal are those color arrangements and particularly those in the plaid, the look of which is a traveling rug, but are venturesome as light as Shetland shawl and brightening with a handspun wool, mink, and cashmere.

To coats as well as gowns the stitching infection has spread, and among the very early coat models is a high-collared coat with a wide belt. The first is the short coat in black blue or brown, having its edges everywhere hemmed with a wide belt and a dotted or plaid fabric that was well and has a satin cord edge, is commonly put to this service, and is very much in demand, as is Dolphine Farge, the distinguished artist, in her own clever idea. The other interesting stranger is the long Empire ulster, and the quiet, natural, and simple lines of which are much more than a mere foreshadowing the coming of the high girdled Josephine fasces that James Halliday has in his Notion book, has set on its feet. Undoubtedly the Empire is coming, but whether or not it is to fully develop in the autumn no one can say. The plaid and the dot are in what the women who are to wear it say and feel on the subject. A goodly number of semi-Emperor gowns have arrived, and mostly made for ball and wedding dresses the entering wedge is typified by the new coats and cloaks.

But there is a new and fat of three Caledonian beauties, the spotted fancies make an enthralling show. There are rough wool, green and brown, wool and mohair, or mink and fur, or fine dots through which a well chosen silk lining will glimmer to advantage. Then there are winter coats, and these are mostly spangled over, and in as attractive of all the plaid velvets and satin-faced cloths with velvet dots, as are to be had at any place.

At the Parisian dictum no woman can wear a costume composed wholly of plaid or dotted fancies. In she must compromise with either the plaid or the dots, and the round white necks. This will be pleasing and novel and the women will look well as comfortable as in the plaid and dots, which the have clinging with such devotion. Elbow sleeves are, of course, the rational accompaniment of the plaid and dots, and then the important business of ornamenting the Feminine roof and crown of things.

CENSUS PLANS.

Agricultural and Mining Statistics Are to Be Taken Carefully.

From The Herald

Washington Bureau.

Washington, Aug. 28.—(Special to The Herald)—Former Governor Merriam of Minnesota, who is director of the census, has evolved a plan by which the Western states will secure considerable advertising and considerable benefit from having the agricultural and mineral statistics taken, with a view of accuracy in the results. The plan is referred to any one interested in these pursuits. The states included in the list which will be thoroughly looked over by the census commissioners are Oregon, California, Colorado, Wyoming, Idaho, Montana, the two Dakotas, the Pacific Northwest, and the Great Lakes.

Elmer E. Adams, with "Tim" Byrnes, called upon Assistant Secretary Taylor today and induced that official to hold a meeting of the commissioners for finding a site for the public buildings at Fergus Falls. Some days ago the treasurer of the commission had written to the commissioners to advise that it would be a considerable figure in the investigation to make a site on the census bureau's property, and this work, when completed, will be highly beneficial to the farmers, stock breeders and others in the state.

It is considered that irrigation is necessary to make certain sections of the state suitable for agriculture.

The witnesses tomorrow will be asked to talk very much about their intention regarding gathering mineral and agricultural statistics in the states of the West coast.

It is known that a commissioner, of the bureau will be first named to go over the states and inform the census bureau just what force will be necessary to carry on the work of securing these statistics and the more important topics that will be necessary for the

FIGHT IN KENTUCKY

Free Silver Newspapers, Railroad and Church Are Goebel's Enemies.

HE KILLED HIS MAN

Shooting of Bunker Standford by Goebel One of the Issues.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—A Louisville dispatch to the Record says: The most remarkable gubernatorial campaign ever known in Kentucky is on. Its intensity is increasing day by day. The eyes of the country are upon it. The national leaders of Democracy are vitally concerned in it. Bryan himself has been placed in a most delicate position by the Goebel campaign. The biggest corporation in the state, the Louisville & Nashville railroad, is fighting him. The church even has been drawn in, and in the upper sight is held of ministers working to encompass the defeat of the candidate whom they consider heretic, what they regard as heretic. The women are beginning to take interest, and Mrs. Lulu Henry, of Versailles, the woman supreme, has shown her intention of taking the stump against Goebel, the Democratic candidate.

Three full tickets are in the field, and the orators are now being told to haggle over the issue of silver in the state. The central figure in this battle is William Goebel, the nominee of the Anti-Gold Democratic convention, when it is elected, one-half of the Democracy of Kentucky was disfranchised when 222 right-wing delegates out of 300 were fraudulently elected to stand for him. He is to be nominated. His political treachery to Capt. W. J. Stone, which has never been denied, and the conduct of his campaign, in which he has lied to the police of Louisville, in forcing the convention to do Goebel's will are well remembered. These are only two of the blemishes that brought him down by his enemies. They point to the election law, of which he is the author, which places the control of the elections in the hands of three of the electors in the state, as thoroughly as any amendment could. The killing of John Sandford has been made an issue in the campaign. The Goebel orators are now trying to explain the killing from the stamp. The story as generally told is this: Sandford was a leader of Covington, Ky., where he also had a home. He was an ex-Confederate, a Mason, a member of the Christian church and a man of great wealth. In every way Sandford was a friend of the Goebel cause. Blackburn was preparing for his return to the United States Senate. Sandford was working for him. Goebel, Goebel and his wife, affiliated with the gold men, as silver men accuse him of doing secretly today.

He was against the gold men, and Sandford was engaged in his interest. One day Goebel caused to be published in a Covington paper an article referring to Sandford, in which he told the story of the home that Sandford was certain. That same day Goebel was standing in front of Sandford's bank. It had been arranged that he would be there the day of encountering his enemy, Sandford walked up. As soon as he saw Goebel he rushed at him.

"I am here to get you ready for that article in the Covington Ledger today," "I do," answered Goebel.

"Then defend yourself," said Sandford. The two men faced each other and Sandford fell dead, shot through the head. Goebel had a bullet hole through his coat. It is on this point that Goebel's enemies are now insisting. They assert that when he met Sandford he was wearing a vest of metal. They say that Sandford, who was a Baptist, was one of the three pistol shots in the state of Kentucky, place his revolver to Goebel's heart and fire, with no effect, and then he shot him.

Goebel himself has said that he knew the man he killed, and that he knew Sandford was an excellent shot, while he himself was not, and that he expected to be killed, but was not otherwise prepared for an aman uccidere. This is one issue. It has been made so much of by the anti-Goebel orators that on Monday, as the day of the battle, the state was touched on it and explained the circumstances. They asserted the cause of the trouble between Goebel and Sandford was that Goebel had a bill introduced in the legislature to require a license to carry a bill reducing from 5 to 1 cent the toll on a bridge in which Sandford was a stockholder; that Sandford published a speech in which he said his mother, and that on the day of the encounter Sandford saw Goebel on the street, his pistol and fired, but missed and went home.

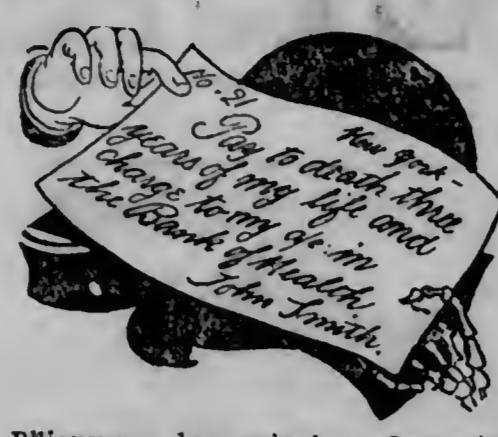

One of the remarkable features of the campaign is the attitude of ex-Senator Blodgett. When Blodgett was buried Blodgett's son, a young man, and took a vow to avenge the death of his friend. Today Blodgett is touring the country, and is making speeches for Sandford and is making speeches for him.

The second issue in the campaign is the Louisville & Nashville. Goebel's hold on his party is Goebel's hold on it. He has been an active worker against it ever since he went to the barbershop, and the McPhersons, and anti-extremists, which party gives him the power to fix rates, is his private. The Louisville & Nashville is practically all the common stock of the railroad and navigation company.

The concluding issue is the fact that the Goebel orators are thought to be enlisted on the side of the Louisville & Nashville. Another issue which has been made by the Goebel orators is that Goebel took to defeat the Roberts, or county option, bill, aimed at the liquor trade. For this Goebel has been denounced by religious leaders, and conferences all over the state. The religious press is fighting him. The Rev. Dr. Kortfoot of the city of the Southern Baptists, theological seminary, made references to Goebel's position on the Roberts bill. The Shelbyville Sentinel, a Goebel organ, made a violent attack on the Roberts bill.

As a result sixty-five Baptist associations have passed resolutions condemning the attack on the Roberts bill. The Goebel orators are raising a fund with which to prosecute the offending editor for criminal libel, and Kortfoot has sued the Sentinel for $10,000.

On Saturday John Young, Brown, nominee of the anti-Goebel Democrats, for governor, opened a campaign with a speech at Belvoir, Ohio, the Republican campaign was opened Tuesday at London. The Brown orators are following the Goebel orators all Acting President Manderson's Address to the American Bar Association.

THE TRUST PROBLEM

The Growing Uniformity of Statute Laws Is Given Some Attention.

Buffalo, Aug. 28.—The annual session of the American Bar association opened here this morning with a good-sized attendance of delegates from nearly every state in the Union.

The Hon. Charles F. Manderson, of Omaha, Neb., the acting president delivered the annual address. He said in part:

"In the twenty-two years that have passed away since the American Bar association has been organized, conforming itself to its lofty purpose and high aims, it has surely suberved the public welfare, and has, in its efforts to do so, won the confidence and esteem of the public, and built up, in its members, a spirit of personal honor and integrity, which is not to be found in all the members of the bar.

"It is a matter of sincere regret to me that the American Bar association has not, to date, been able to effect a uniformity of statute laws for the benefit of the public.

"I am sure that the members of the bar, in their efforts to do so, have done their best, but the results have not been as I would have desired."

"I am sure that the members of the bar, in their efforts to do so, have

WHEAT GRADES.

Text of the Rules Established
By the Board of Appeals.

In the Herald Saturday was given the synopsis of the grades of wheat decided upon by the Minnesota board of appeals to take effect and be in force on and after September 1. The following is the full text of the decision:

State of Minnesota, office of the board of appeals, Minneapolis, Aug. 22, 1899.

The following are the grades of grain established by the Joint Board of Grain Appeals in compliance with chapter 180, general laws of 1898, for the purpose of establishing a board of appeals for the inspection of grain and prescribing its quality and grade, which will be known as "Minnesota grades." The same will be used and be enforced on and after Sept. 1, 1899.

No. 1 hard spring wheat—No. 1 hard spring wheat, well cleaned, and measured bushel, and must be composed mostly of hard spring life, and weigh not less than 56 pounds to the bushel.

No. 1 northern spring wheat—Must be sound and well cleaned, and must be composed of a quality that they can not disintegrate with the exhibition of spring wheat, and weigh not less than 56 pounds to the bushel.

No. 2 northern spring wheat—Must be sound, reasonably clean, the grade to which the same is entitled, and must be composed of a quality that they can not disintegrate with the exhibition of spring wheat, and weigh not less than 56 pounds to the bushel.

No. 3 spring wheat—Should comprise all the inferior, shrunken, spring wheat, which is not fit for market, and measured bushel.

No. 4—Hard, dirty wheat, and colored, containing unmarketable admixtures—soft wheat, may be admitted into the grades of 1, 2, northern spring and 3, spring wheat, provided the test weight of the same is not more than one pound less than the standard weight required by the existing rules for said grades, and provided further, that such wheat is in all cases to be graded and admitted into such grades.

Rejected spring wheat—Rejected spring wheat, which is not fit for market, and measured bushel.

No. 5 grade grain—Any wheat, corn, oats, rye, barley, or millet, that is in a heated, dried, or otherwise manner, not safe for warehousing or that is badly burnt, badly damaged or otherwise unfit for market, and measured bushel, and grade with inspectors note as to quality and condition.

MR. LANE MAY SUE

Foley Brothers' Foreman Arrested For Hiring Men on the Bowery.

RELEASED AT ONCE

City Attorney Found No Cause For Arrest—May Sue For Damages.

A suit for damages for false arrest will begin in a few days as a result of a blunder made Saturday afternoon. Last week Foley Bros., who are pushing the work on the Hibbing cut-off of the Eastern Minnesota, ran very short of laborers and on Saturday they sent one of their employees here to pick up as many men as possible. They found it impossible to get a supply of men through the employment agencies and were told that there were many men on the Bowery in Duluth who were looking for work. The Foleys, concluding to make another effort to get men, selected one of their foremen, A. E. Lane, and sent him to Duluth to get men.

Mr. Lane reached Duluth Saturday morning and found things pretty much as had been represented. In the morning he had succeeded in hiring thirty-seven men, and had taken them down to the train about 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon to ship them to Hibbing. He had purchased the tickets and had the men aboard when, in the train, when Thomas G. White, a local employment agent, and a police officer walked up. Those standing near say that Mr. White pointed to the men and out and turning to the officer said:

"There, that's him. Place him under arrest." He had never before been arrested in his life, and that he would much prefer to walk to the police station, than suffer the disgrace of a ride in the hay-wagon. The police were in vain and he was driven to police headquarters, where his case was laid before Chief Hansen.

Mr. Lane had something about the necessity of securing witnesses to prove that he was not hiring men, but Mr. Lane was at once told that the police had no time to waste in this matter, and he made no secret of the fact that he had hired many men.

Chief Hansen then sent before Assistant City Attorney Spencer to have a complaint made out, but Mr. Spencer, after hearing the facts, told the chief he had no cause for action against Mr. Lane. The chief then released him at once.

In order to justify the outrage the chief then called in Mr. Spencer's agent, who said that Mr. Spencer excused his attorney in allowing Mr. Lane to go, and they claim that he was running an employment agency, without any license.

Chief Hansen has a different story to tell of the alleged arrest of Mr. Lane. He said it was no arrest, but a summons.

Mr. Lane, he said, had a license and that the man was hiring men without an employment agent's license and that was why he was arrested. The chief then said he had hired 128 men last week.

Mr. Lane, of West Duluth, acknowledged that he was in a hurry to get back to the train which left at 3 o'clock and so to Hibbing with his men. He was not locked up and he asked the chief while at police headquarters if he was to be arrested and the chief replied that he was not, and he was not detained at headquarters for only ten minutes.

Chief Hansen says that if the police are bringing suit that will be no defense for the reason that Mr. White was not connected with the arrest.

Duluth Newsies Downed in the Saturday Game.

The game of ball on Saturday afternoon between the West Duluth and Duluth newsies had a fast and furious affair. It was played as a sort of prelude to the Duluth-Ashton game and was enjoyed by a large crowd.

At the game the boys from Ashton, the charges that he had not been a member of the Ashton team, and the Mayor Trippen expressed his indignation at the charges that he had not been a member of the Ashton team.

The mayor said that he had always had a warm and friendly feeling towards the city of St. Cloud, and had done anything in his power to help them in their game.

FAVORS DREYFUS

Col. Cordier, Col. Henry's
Deputy, Asserts His Belief of Dreyfus' Innocence.

ONFRONTS MERCIER

Says Henry's Jealousy of Picquart Led Him to Commit Forgery.

Rennes, Aug. 29.—Gen. Mercier, the former minister of war, and most of the other generals interested in the case were present this morning when the trial of Capt. Dreyfus was opened.
There was no special incident.

Col. Cordier, deputy chief of the intelligence department under the late Lieut. Col. Henry, and who since his previous appearance in court has been released by the minister of war, Gen.
the Marquis de Gallifet, from his oath of professional secrecy, he testifying to the effect that the late Col. Sanderh and Lieut. Col. Henry received the famous borderer.

The defense proposed strongly in favor of Dreyfus and was most effective in delivering his testimony. He kept the court and even the judges in roars of laughter by his manner of manner and witlessness. He is a short, stout man with a jolly face and a red nose.
The court declared that he had a good memory and that he was witnesses were first shown when the date of the borderer was given as May. The witness declared that he was now convinced Dreyfus was innocent.

Col. Cordier then spoke strongly for Col. Picquart as a responsible witness and then the situation which existed in the office of the intelligence department of the war office. He explained that Henry was jealous of Picquart because he was then in charge of the statistical section, which Henry had hoped to get for himself. Col. Mercier expressed his confidence in Col. Picquart that he had committed his forgery.

The evidence of Col. Cordier was delivered in a loud voice, accompanied by the gestures of the court, which mentioned the ambassador of Germany, which caused the president of court, Col. Jouast, to intercede and to the court that the name of the ambassador of Germany or refer to Germany.

The hasty corrections of the witness, when he repeated the same statement, caused him to differ from once, and the manner in which he had been mentioned Germany at other times, was most effective.

During his testimony no fewer than five witnesses asked to be confronted with him.

Dreyfus spoke a few words at the conclusion of Col. Cordier's statements and the scene which preceded his arrest was so fantastic that it completely bewildered and then left a blunted impression on his memory.

The witness is now accustomed to his surroundings and has apparently got used to his confinement, as he speaks with the same flat tones of various subjects as the day he was detained in his confinement.

The witness said the piecing of documents possessed fascination for those of the intelligence department, as the witnesses could take notes of various subjects as the day he was detained in his confinement.

Col. Cordier then administered a well-deserved scold to Maj. Lauth by remarking that he (the colonel) might be allowed to know more than Maj. Lauth with reference to what he said to Sanderh on the general staff since Col. Cordier himself was one. The colonel retorted, turned around and said, "Col. Sanderh, I have a very clever spy attached to the intelligence department who has the secret of visiting great houses, but who prefers the company of the spy to the company of the general staff." Col.
Cordier then described his method of piecing documents and showed how the borderer was pasted together by Henry, who was actually entrusted with the secret of his confinement.

The witness said the piecing of documents
possessed fascination for those
of the intelligence department, as the
witnesses could take notes of various subjects as the day he was detained in his confinement.

Gen. Roget next confronted Col. Cordier and tried to score against him, by pointing out that Cordier was incorrect in his statement that Col. Sanderh and Soto on the general staff since Col. Cordier himself was one. The colonel retorted, turned around and said, "Col. Sanderh, I have a very clever spy attached to the intelligence department who has

with the secret of his confinement.

The audience applauded this remark.

deserved scold to Maj. Lauth by remarking

The witness then referred to the spy Gueneau's denunciations to the effect that officers at the headquarters staff were interested in the stage in disastrous attitudes. His evidence was not very strong, but it was that of Col. Fleur and Archivist Griseb.
It was also the public prosecutor's former minister at the witness bar. He is a venerable looking man with sandy, snow white hair and modest, kindly features. He was noted for a necktie and gave his testimony seated at the low table. The witness

HONOR TO HEROES

President McKinley's Speech to Soldiers Returned From Philippines.

WELCOME TO HOMES

Their Record an Example of Patriotism and Inspiration to Duty.

Pittsburg, Aug. 29.—President McKinley's speech to the returning Pennsylvania soldiers, which was delivered at Schenley park yesterday afternoon was greeted with enthusiastic applause from the large crowd assembled. The president said:

Gov. Stein and my fellow citizens; I am glad to participate with the families and fellow citizens of the Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers in this grand reunion.

You have earned the plaudits not alone of the people of Pennsylvania but of the whole nation. Your return has been the signal for an outburst of patriotic and cheering regard from your landing in the Golden Gate of the Pacific to your homecoming. Your record is a witness of the worth of women and a greeting from joyous hearts which will never fade.

The general and your countrymen and their high appreciation of the services you have rendered to your country and to the cause and permanent the victory of Dewey. You added new glory to American arms.

You have won the confidence and admiration of other fields of conflict have enlarged the map of the United States and extended the boundaries of our liberty.

But while we share in the joy that is yours, there are others who are not with you, nor have you, nor your families, nor your friends, nor your other loved ones, been able to return home.

We then had no other title to defend, no authority beyond that to maintain Spanish rule in the archipelago. Spain had sued for peace.

The peace and truce were not accepted.

The Spanish fleet was captured by the insurgents. Our kindness was reciprocated.

DEEP MINE OF COPPER

The Calumet and Hecla Now Down Nearly Five Thousand Feet.

RIGHTEST IN WORLD

Thousands of Men Are Employed on This Truly Wonderful Property.

Islethorn, Mich., Aug. 29.—Ex-Commissioner of Mineral Statistics Newell is authority for the statement that up to July 28, 1899, the Calumet and Hecla mine has paid dividends aggregating $60,850,000. Up to Jan. 1, 1899, this great mine has yielded 1,265,426,320 pounds of ingot copper.

It also says that the amygdaloid is now about 1,000 feet below the surface.

The company is confident that the amygdaloid is to add much to the output.

Twenty-five years ago the company was holding 800 tons of rock in depth, corresponding with the present. The company has produced 34,200 pounds of copper, taking 7,676,680 pounds of mineral in stock at its smelters. For the last fiscal year the output of refined copper was 48,573 tons and the smelters under great protection to strike back obeyed.

Until the strike was held no authority had been given to maintain the mine, and the miners were not allowed by his command and respected by his superior officers, gave him

the right to command his men.

These heroes did not die,

but went to their death.

KIDNEY TROUBLE.

The Most Prevalent, Dangerous and Deceptive Disease.

Thousands Have It and Don't Know It.

Pains and aches come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble. Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is overloaded with the thick, the thick, kidney poisoned blood through the veins and arteries.

Some backache indicates kidney trouble of no small importance.

The passing of scanty or profuse quantities of urine, indicating kidney trouble, if you want to feel well you can make no mistake by consulting Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the specific for kidney, bladder and urinary troubles. It has cured thousands of apparently hopeless cases after all other efforts have failed.

Sold on its merits by all druggists and physicians. It is a safe, reliable remedy. United States Patent Office has issued a certificate of genuineness to Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root.

On and after Aug. 29, the Evening Herald will print all legal notices three times, as required by law, for $1. The regular price for this class of work heretofore has been $6 for the three publications, and it will have a considerable saving to estates that have to be probated.

THE MEAT TRUST.

The American consumer pays at the rate of $300,000,000 a year for trade expansion. That sum, says the Denver Post, represents the forced donations the home consumer is compelled to make to the protected industries, whereby they are enabled to undersell the foreign manufacturer in his home market. The large packing houses have just advanced the selling price of dressed beef in order to meet their expenses in selling beef in the Liverpool market at prices much below those charged at home. It is rather expensive, of course, to transport beef in refrigerators from the packing houses in Kansas City and Omaha to Liverpool, but so long as the American people can be made to pay the extra cost the packers are enabled to sell at reduced prices.

An advance of 3 cents per pound to the home consumer leaves to the packer a profit when selling at reduced prices in the English market. Doubtless the American public does not mind paying that much more for beef if in consequence the people of England may be provided with cheap American meat. Everybody realizes how it will redound to the credit of the American nation in the monthly summary of commerce and finance statistics we can point to the fact that the United States has exported so many tons of dressed beef in one month.

There is, of course, no competition possible from abroad while the home packer enjoys a profitable trade in the United States. The tariff duty is 15 per cent on hides. The public says that when it buys shoes, hides were on the free list before the Dingley tariff was enacted, but the poor packer had to have some sort of protection, and as he could not get it on the dressed beef, as none is imported, he secured it on the hides that formerly came in duty free from the South American countries and were here turned into leather. Now, in addition to the 15 per cent on hides, the price of meat is also advanced. Taken altogether, the packer finds no reason to complain.

No one can justly complain of any natural advance in prices that has taken place over the low quotations of the depressed times following the panic of 1893. The return of prosperity is naturally attended by a legitimate rise in the prices of various commodities, due to the increased cost of production from the increased purchasing power of the people. But it cannot be honestly contended that an advance in price in this country of an article which is shipped abroad and sold in London for a lower price than it can be obtained here is legitimate or should be permitted. It is downright robbery of the American consumer, and any policy that permits it, high tariff or any other form of protection, should be abolished. All such unnatural combinations of the forces of the law of trade deserve the severest condemnation, and legislation should be directed towards their extermination. If the meat trust can be reached in any way, no time should be lost in rescuing the people from the extortion from which they are now suffering.

A REAL GRIEVANCE.

A Washington correspondent claims that the fourth-class postmasters of the country are in a position to get their stamp from winter. They have a real grievance, and, while they are not advertising it extensively, it is none the less real. The introduction of rural free delivery is cutting into their business and salary, and if the work of extending this free delivery is to be continued without restriction, why the fourth-class postmasters might as well quit business. And so, notwithstanding the prohibition against lobbying, it is said that hundreds of them are to be dismissed.

Washington during the session, the rural free delivery scheme, and incidentally in favor of a raise in pay, along the line. They want minimum pay of $100 per year, an appropriation for clerk hire, and another appropriation for rent, light and fuel. Under the present system, they must buy their own stationery, and they are warranted in saying is unjust.

There is no doubt that the free delivery plan in rural communities is working a real hardship in the case of the country postmasters so far as their salaries are concerned, because their salaries are concerned, because their salaries are concerned, because the amount of business they transact and the free delivery scheme lessens their business.

Many of the postmasters—indeed, most of them—are storekeepers, and they sought the appointment of postmaster largely because of the additional business it would bring to their stores. If the mail is to be delivered at the farmers' homes, so that there will be no necessity of the farmers coming to the postoffice, the advantage of being postmaster will be entirely removed. Thus it is seen that the grievance of the fourth-class postmasters is real and not fancied.

COUNTY DIVISION.

The question of dividing St. Louis county and creating the new county of Iron, as was proposed a year or more ago, has been revived by the Hibbing Tribune, which devotes considerable space in its last issue to contending that the section which it is designed to set apart as the new county, consists of a portion of the land to maintain a county government, and is geographically proportioned so that its affairs could be economically administered.

Touching on the question of population, it says:

"Let us look over the field and view the harbors of civilization: Ely, 3000; Tower, 3000; Virginia, 2000; Eveleth and Payal, 2000; Sparia, 1200; Mountain Iron, 1000; Babbawak, 1000; McKinley, 1000; Iron Junction, 300; Leighton, 200; Powers, 200; Hinckley, 3500."

"The French, believing that the ancient Jews killed Jesus, pride the modern Jews among them, as soiling the very ground on which they stand. The English, like the French, also a Jew. They little think that the natives of old France, then divided by Jules, according to St. Athanasius of Alexandria, Egypt, crucified Jesus, and not the Jews who were deprived of this power under the Romans."

Army officers, says the New York World, naturally wonder what influence it has on the public mind to have a postmaster for another "argument," though Mr. MacVeagh has already filed three briefs to one by Col. Barr, the judge advocate of the court that convicted him. What is the influence that has characterized the present?

Admiral Schley in his article in one of the current magazines may be forgotten, but the frontiersmen still live.

"That solves a whole blighted murder case," the frontiersmen tell behind their frontiersmen, "on the other hand, my eye ain't shut so tight I can't see up to two and get the answer right." And when prayer comes, Friday nights, And for an hour or so, I'd hear low voices at the gate.

And when the gate got saggin' down I says, "Hold up a foot or so," says I, "Matilda's got a bean."

That's when I saw Matilda—that's Matilda's front doorsteps left behind; but I can't see up to two and get the answer right."

And a feller after her, why, that just heat all."

WEST DULUTH

The lumber piles at the St. Louis Lumber company's mill, fourteen in number, struck yesterday morning for an advance of wages to $2.25 per day and they were still out this morning. There has been talk of a general strike of the piles, but this is the only mill in which the men had gone out this morning. It was stated that the piles in the other mills had decided to await the outcome of the strike of the St. Louis company's men.

The firm is determined not to grant the strikers' demands, it is said. Piles are being sold at $2 per day. Last year they got $1.50.

Virginia Physicians Want Their Affairs Straightened Out.

Charles W. Miller and Stuart Bates are two physicians who have been in partnership at Virginia in the conduct of a hospital. This morning the former began a suit in a district court against the hospital in which he asks the court to straighten out the affairs. The partnership was dissolved over a year ago, but they have agreed on the terms of the dissolution, and they ask the court to help them out. They want a receiver appointed for the partnership affairs, if it is necessary. Schmidt, Raymond & Mitchell are Dr. Miller's attorneys.

Frank Cross this morning began a suit in a district court to recover from his partner, Dr. W. H. White, $14,318 that he alleges belongs to him. He is in his complaint that $5124.42 was turned over to him to be cared for until Cross reached his majority, but all he has had out of his estate is $747.26, and he is asking $14,318 for the balance. He asserts that the two have invested in mortgage securities without any order from the probate court, and that therefore Dr. W. H. White is responsible. The latter's bondsmen, Mr. Morris and P. McDonnell, are included as defendants in the suit. Schmidt, Raymond & Mitchell are the attorneys.

KRAEMER IS SUED

Civil Action Brought Against Him and Partner For Arthur Orr Flour.

TWO COMPANIES SUE

Pillsbury-Washburn and Consolidated Milling Companies Bring Action.

Civil suits were started in district court yesterday against Peter G. Kraemer and his partner, Mr. D. Allen, to recover damages for the alleged conversion of a portion of the flour cargo of the wheat steamer Arthur Orr. It will be remembered that last winter and spring there was a good deal of stir about the matter, and Mr. Kraemer and others were indicted. The indictment against him still stands, no action having been taken upon it as yet.

One of the suits, and the largest of the two, is brought by the Pillsbury-Washburn and Miller company, limited, and amounts to $10,000. Mr. D. Allen, to recover damages for the alleged conversion of various dates between Nov. 29 and Dec. 12, 1888, the defendants unlawfully and maliciously, in that they knew that the cargo of the plaintiff, took it from the possession of the Northern Steamship company and converted it to their own use. The suit specifies that the 100 barrels Pillsbury's Best, 270 98-pound sacks of Pillsbury's Best, 240 140-pound sacks, Pillsbury's Best, 130 100-pounds of high grade flour, the value of $482.50. For the loss to the plaintiff, it is said, have been caused by this conversion $5000 damages is asked. Daniel G. Cash is the attorney.

The Consolidated Milling company is the plaintiff in the second suit, in which $500 damages is asked. It is alleged that the defendants unlawfully appropriated the over 100 barrels of flour, 100 sacks of high grade flour, the value of $482.50. For the loss to the plaintiff, it is said, have been caused by this conversion $5000 damages is asked.

Arthur Orr has begun a suit against P. G. Kraemer to recover the $2000 he received from him. He asserts that on May 23, 1889, Steele knocked him down with his fist and then ran him down the dock. After this exercise he asks the court to award Steele pay him $2000. Baldwin & Baldwin are his attorneys.

Thrine Larson to clear title to the 520 sets of section 32, 41-15, 41-15, Jaques & Hudson are the attorneys. The suit is to be tried on Aug. 12, before Lester R. K. Third division, which has been destroyed by fire. Eckman & Steevens.

Indemnification against P. G. Kraemer will come up at the coming term court, it having been continued from last term by consent of both parties. No statement of whether the case was to be pushed has been made by the authorities.

Peter Roberts, this morning began a suit against the Royal Fire Insurance company of Rockford, Ill., and the security Insurance company of New Haven, to recover $75.00 alleged to be due on a policy of insurance on his over $100,000 worth of property.

John C. Lauman, attorney for the plaintiff, is the attorney in this case.

James H. H. Chambers, attorney for receiver $900 alleged to be due from Thomas H. Martin, as a balance for a bill of goods, is the attorney. The suit is to be tried on Aug. 12, before Lester R. K. Third division, which has been destroyed by fire. Eckman & Steevens.

MARINE NEWS.

As Soon as Wheat Movement Improves, Freights Will Liven Up.

Wheat is not coming in at a very rapid rate, and there has been little doing in grain freights yesterday and today. As soon as the movement gets up, it is expected to be almost any time. It is expected that freighters will give up and the market will present a more active appearance. The rate is somewhere about 4½ cents bld and 4½ cents ake, or would be if there was any movement.

rooked so I cannot remember the facts and details.

Maj. Lauth, having been permitted to speak, said Col. Corder's leave of absence was granted on Aug. 12, 1898, to Sept. 23, to which Corder retorted that he was much surprised at contradiction on such an unimportant question. Inevitably, the question of his conduct was raised.

Continuing, the major commented upon Col. Corder's testimony and especially the statement that there were no anti-Semitic feelings on the headquarter staff, and that there was no evidence of anti-Semitism on the part of Corder, and this was Corder himself, who was always expressing antipathy to the Jews, especially when he was a member of the department.

"Yes," continued Corder, "and I am an anti-Semite, but my opinions never went to the length of bringing false evidence against the Jews." (Senators, I am a honest man, and have a conscience. (Cheers—execute me.)

Maj. Lauth then proceeded to change the subject. He said he himself passed the "cette canaille de" document, and added that it was only received at the department on the 12th of August, 1898, and that he was not aware of the contents of the document.

Maj. Lauth again asked permission to speak, but Col. Jouanet declared that the incident was not connected with the department, and that the tension existing in the department was between the officers and Col. Corder.

When the president asked Corder if he desired to say anything in rebuttal to Maj. Lauth's statement, Corder replied that he did not.

When, however, the major asserted, in regard to the letter, "C. C. C." that Corder had nothing to do with the letter, Col. Corder rose and said: "As deputy chief, I was anxious I with all the work done, that Maj. Lauth was not to be present."

At this juncture, Maj. Lauth then announced that he would not be present.

Gen. Roget then mounted the platform, where his appearance caused a general stir. He said he would not respond to the forged letter to Maj. Lauth, having been permitted to speak the same attempt as Gen. Mercier.

Continuing, the major asserted that the letter in question was returned to the post, Col. Corder expressed surprise at the fact that the letter was not delivered to him.

Gen. Roget then asserted that the incident was not connected with the department, and that the tension existing in the department was between the officers and Col. Corder.

When the president asked Corder if he desired to say anything in rebuttal to Maj. Lauth's statement, Corder replied that he did not.

When, however, the major asserted, in regard to the letter, "C. C. C." that Corder had nothing to do with the letter, Col. Corder rose and said: "As deputy chief, I was anxious I with all the work done, that Maj. Lauth was not to be present."

At this juncture, Maj. Lauth then announced that he would not be present.

Gen. Roget then mounted the platform, where his appearance caused a general stir. He said he would not respond to the forged letter to Maj. Lauth, having been permitted to speak the same attempt as Gen. Mercier.

Continuing, the major asserted that the letter in question was returned to the post, Col. Corder expressed surprise at the fact that the letter was not delivered to him.

Why is Electric Light Best?
Because it is Healthy, Clean Pure and Brilliant.
HEALTHY! It has no odor. Professor Thompson states one cubic foot of gas consumes as much oxygen as four adults.
CLEAN! It causes no discolourations of furnishings and decorations in homes.
SAFE! As electric bell work, no danger of suffocation.
CHEAP! By using a little care in turning off lights when not in use it is cheaper than any other illuminant.

THE GRANT ARRIVES

At 'Frisco With North Dakota, Idaho and Wyoming Troops.

San Francisco, Aug. 29.—The immigrant Grant, which arrived last night from Manaus, lands at San Francisco thirty officers and 500 enlisted men of the First North Dakota infantry, U. S. V., twenty-eight officers and 500 enlisted men of the Idaho infantry, U. S. V., and twelve officers and 250 enlisted men of the First Wyoming infantry; two officers and fifty-seven enlisted men of Batteries A, Wyoming, and eighty-four discharged soldiers.

A report on the miners' meeting to come from the captain of the First Wyoming infantry, U. S. V., and twenty officers and 250 enlisted men of the First Wyoming infantry; two officers and fifty-seven enlisted men of Batteries A, Wyoming, and eighty-four discharged soldiers.

Before the actions brought against Grant, the officers and men of the regiment, and the trustee appointed by the proceeds of Grant's estate.

During the days of his prosperity Grant presented Leicester square to London at a cost of £30,000 and built a magnificent Italian marble palace at a total cost of £100,000.

During the voyage there were five deaths, as follows:

Aug. 2, Sergt. Benjamin Moore, Company K, First North Dakota, died of dysentery and was buried at sea.

Aug. 3, Hospital Steward Frederick Burtt, Company K, First North Dakota, died and jumped overboard at midnight. A boat was lowered but no trace of the man ever came.

Aug. 5, Thomas Olsen, corporal of Company K, First North Dakota, died of dysentery and was buried at sea.

BRIGHT PROSPECTS

Port Arthur Cheered By Advent of the Rainy River Railway.

THE MINERAL LANDS

Will Also Add Greatly to the Prosperity of the Town.

Port Arthur, Ont., Aug. 27.—(Special to The Herald)—Bright prospects bid fair to materialize into grand realities and push away the dark clouds which have hung over this beautiful place for the last decade. Port William, from its inauspicious swamps, may boast and brag over the succulence it draws from the warty breast of the powerful P. railway, but Port Arthur needs it not. The advent of the Ontario & Rainy River railway, combined with the development of the extensive mineral resources in the great extent of tributary country, promises prosperity and progress with a big P.

By Aug. 1900, the Ontario & Rainy River railway must have eighty miles of road completed to the westward. On the last route, here and there, and soon rocks and dirt will be dying. Already twenty miles of Stanley Park, and the main line of the railway, the western end of the road will be completed from Winnipeg to the Rainy river, and by a year from this fall trains will be running on the road to the Canadian navigation, on the Lake Superior, through the silver district, the iron beds and the gold fields to the great west of Manitoba.

Under its charter the Ontario & Rainy River railway must have its main line in Port Arthur, and the company seems to enter into both the letter and spirit of that provision. As the Ontario & Rainy River railway promises to be to the westward, so the day and the C. P. railway transferred its affections to the muskeg of Port William.

Probably the most important mail road to the Ontario & Rainy River railway is the recent purchase of dock No. 5, in Port Arthur. Some weeks ago, in a letter to the stockholders and to the stockholders of Chicago, for the 100-pound championship of the West, George Sauer acted as referee. Sauer, and not upon Lind, will fall the burden of repairing, if possible, the damage to the permanent interests of the state.

The Auditorium was filled with 6000 people when the Oscar carnival opened last night. At 10 o'clock the preliminary bout was called. It was a 20-round match between the C. P. railway line from the C. P. railway track to the dock, and is backed by two large warehouses. It is situated on the south end of town, and is in front of an old building, the P. O. & W. railway yards, recently acquired by the C. P. and I. & M. railway. This place is bounded by the dock, owns forty-two acres of land, and all the terminals of the P. A. & W. railway, together with 100 acres of land on the Dawson.

Mr. Jenison, who is well known in Duluth, in developing the water power at the Kakabeka Falls, on the Kaministiquia river, has been well prospered. What he is now doing after the death of their Golden Twins scheme, but now, with H. Shear, of Minneapolis, are taking on from $900 to $9000 ounces of silver a month.

Of course the people here are heavily interested in the Shabodan mine, Island Falls, and the gold districts. You can go to Shabodan all the way by steamboat now. Between Lakes Minnetonka and Kaministiquia, the water power will mean much for Port Arthur. Not much is being said, but Mr. Jenison is saving water, and the early signs of confidence as to the future.

This is a great bustle now going on for copper, iron and zinc lands, and the next few years will bring many important discoveries and developments. Even the silver properties are being worked again. The prospector who is still working after the death of their Golden Twins scheme, but now, with H. Shear, of Minneapolis, are taking on from $900 to $9000 ounces of silver a month.

At the Saginaw mine, in the Sawhill district, it has been demonstrated that the location bears an extension to the north, and the shaft one hundred feet northeast of the shaft a cross-cut is under way. It has been prospected to a depth of 200 feet from the surface, and is now high up. Some work is being done on the shaft, on the same side of the house, sinking in progress, and a shaft down twenty-five feet is being driven. There is also a report that the reef has been encountered in the bottom of the main shaft on the Sawhill mine. That shaft is now 100 feet deep. The property has been under development by a syndicate, which will receive a one-third interest for the work done. The contract was signed Aug. 1, and a new company will be operated to operate the mine.

On the Hamlin reef inability to get timber has caused restlessness on the stamp mill. The stamp and machinery are in place, the building as yet has not been erected, and an aerial tramway put in.

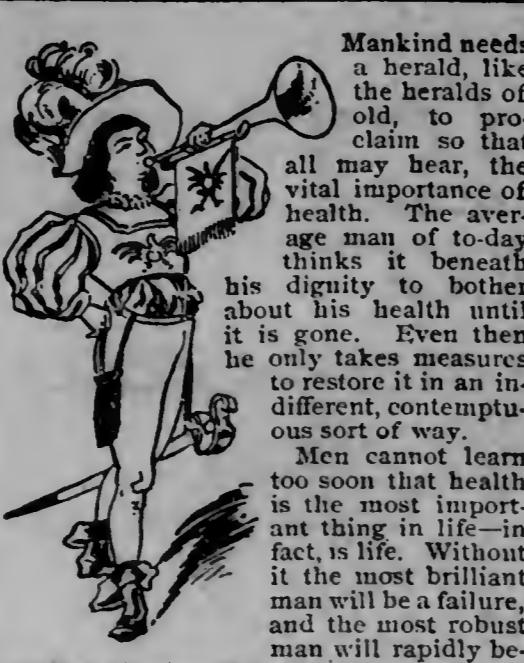

The pole line for the aerial tramway has been finished, as also has the flume at the Hamlin reef. The aerial tramway is in progress, and as soon as suitable trucks can be secured, two huge generators will be taken in from the south. The Hamlin reef is the first one in Western Ontario to be operated with electricity, and the power plant alone, when completed, will cost $100,000.

A deal is pending for AL282, in the Island Falls group, by which a stamp mill will be installed and the mill placed on a permanent practical basis.

Four different reports on this property showed an average value for the ore of $25 a ton. The mine is down 140 feet, and 135 feet of driving have been done.

The Pettigrew deal has recently been settled, and some good bullion returns are confidently expected.

N. J. Upham and John Howenstein are prosecuting development work on AL203-304. The shaft is down forty feet, and the vein mineralized with iron, cap-

St. Paul, Aug. 29.—(Special to The Herald)—The following is Governor Lind's reply to Republican aspersions, that political appointments are being made in the grain department prejudicial to its efficiency, the reply being addressed to the St. Paul Pioneer Press, for its article of Aug. 24, entitled "Political Wheat Inspection."

"Editor Pioneer Press:—Your attention has been called to the editorial appearing as a leader in your paper of Aug. 24, headed "Political Wheat Inspection," of which part reads:

"The man Fletcher of Clinton Station, Fairfax Co., Va., writes, 'I am a grain dealer, and I have seen a great deal of the grain market. I have seen the heralds of approaching sickness and disease, must pay a tremendous penalty. For men who suffer in this way there is no relief. I have seen the heralds of Golden Medical Discovery. LABOR'S GREAT DAY

Preparations For Monday's Celebration Indicate That It Will Be a Daisy.

THE GRAND PARADE

Five Thousand Workingmen Expected to Be in Line
--The Games.

The celebration of Labor day next Monday will be more generally observed than any previous Labor day in Duluth. The several committees under whose auspices the various organizations are being arranged are enthusiastic over the reports that each day brings forth. Practically every establishment in Duluth will be closed to observe the day and most of the toilers who supply the necessities of the day. Last evening the report of the five deputy marshals indicated that over 1,000 union workmen would be on the morning parade, and the banners, uniforms, floats will be more elaborate and more numerous than ever.

The big parade will move along First street from Fourth avenue west to Third avenue east, then west on Superior, then down Superior, then down and down Michigan street to the lumber depot. There will be at least four bands in the parade, including the City band, the Duluth band, the North Star band and the Duluth City band, which may come here after all.

However, great interest in the parade is shown by the lumbermen at Fond du Lac is greater. The sports will be exciting enough for the most enthusiastic. An attorney of Duluth's most prominent labor men has gone into solitary training for the pie eating contest, and this year the championship record is not known.

There is a "mixed" lumber race known as the "mixed" lumber race, but little of which has been run anywhere as yet.

This year has commenced nearly everywhere, but is not general yet, but will be next week. Not enough has been run yet to give the average people with any security, and they have gone in training for what they term the "mixed" lumber race, and one of the competitive on race days corrected the impression.

The man having the largest number of logs will be the winner. The "mixed" lumber race will be like the "mixed" championship record is not known.

The battle for supremacy on the one hand, the lumbermen on the other, and the plumbers and the plumbers will undoubtedly be interesting. The plumbers will be in the lead, and the plumbers on the game, but the bresers say that will have a kerf of surprises on tap for their opponents.

The meeting between the lumber interests of Ashland and Duluth will be the interesting event of the afternoon. They will put on the amateur champagne. Fond du Lac and a side dish of pudding.

AMUSEMENTS.

"A BLACK SHEEP." Friday evening a "Black Sheep," one of the most successful of the Hoyt comedies, will be given at the Lyceum. It has been a great success here, and secured the same success here that it has elsewhere. The company presenting it was spoken of as headed by William Davis, for whom the editor of the editor was written by Mr. Hoyt, and who was the first man to play it. There will be a large number of spectators.

Lecture Recital Tonight.

This evening the lecture recital of the Hoyt comedies will be given at the Lyceum. It has been a great success here, and secured the same success here that it has elsewhere. The company presenting it was spoken of as headed by William Davis, for whom the editor of the editor was written by Mr. Hoyt, and who was the first man to play it.

Dr. Thomas to Speak.

Dr. W. H. Thomas, pastor of the People's church of that city, and one of the most popular preachers, will speak at the famous next-day dinner evening at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. Thomas preaches in Chicago at the old McVicker's theatre, holding and having enormous success every Sunday evening. He was recently married and is in full bloom on his wedding trip.

WE'RE MOVING RIGHT ALONG

Every piano or organ we sell makes new friends. We strike a popular chord in selling good instruments at low, sensible prices, but the name of

DULUTH MUSIC CO.,
Largest Piano House at Head of Lakes,
Supt. Alfred St. John, 100 Superior Street.

is a household word in thousands of homes. And no wonder, when we say, for instance, that ONE HUNDRED FOLIARS is at least, and sometimes more, on every instrument we sell. Let us know your needs. Practical, sensible people like our ways.

WILL YOU COME ALONG, TOO?

NORTH DAKOTA CROP REPORT.

Condition of the Harvest There at Close of Past Week.

The crop report for the state of North Dakota issued by the weather bureau for the week ending Aug. 28 is as follows:

The past week has been generally warm and dry, except in the southern part of the state, in and around Bismarck, where there has been rain and down Michigan street to the lumber depot. There will be at least four bands in the parade, including the City band, the Duluth band, the North Star band and the Duluth City band, which may come here after all.

However, great interest in the parade is shown by the lumbermen at Fond du Lac is greater. The sports will be exciting enough for the most enthusiastic. KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Now Fraternal Society to Be Instituted Here.

Next Monday there will be instituted in Duluth a council of the Knights of Columbus, a Roman Catholic fraternal and insurance society. The members will all require that their members be members of the society in the strongest Catholic organizations in the country, and is particularly prominent in the East. Paul has a fine council.

The institution of the council here will be a great event, and the prospective members are looking forward to the number more to be filled.

Dr. Horace A. Davis is the plaintiff in one suit filed yesterday afternoon against Leopold Leopold, who is seeking a decree for the ground of desertion.

The other suit is filed for on the ground of desertion.

Leopold, who is a child of age, and the defendant 45. It is claimed that he deserted the plaintiff. In his complaint he says that he has not been paid except his office furniture and books and instruments needed in his practice, and he has incurred a great debt, and he has been unable to pay it off, fully paid.

He states that he has been unable to get a good job on the part of the Windy City. They are going to St. Paul, and will then go to Duluth with the defendant, and will participate in the institution.

Elks hall has been secured for the institution of the institution of the Knights of Columbus on Saturday evening in the morning, and will continue through most of the afternoon. The Knights of Columbus will be present in the afternoon on their return to Chicago. The council that will be instituted here will have a large membership.

RAILROADS TO COMPETE.

Get Pretty Close to Lake Rate on Lumber to Chicago.

A railroad company has been formed to compete with the Duluth, Superior and Atlantic, and it will probably cut some figure with the Lake rates for lumber to Chicago. About 25 per cent of the lumber yet to be shipped to the Lake Superior by the Duluth lake is now $2.50 per 1000 feet. For white pine the rail rate is about $2.50 per 1000 feet and for Norway about $2.50 per 1000 feet. This is a great reduction, but it might appear for when lumber is shipped by rail the shipper will have to pay the cost of the rail, which will be from 25 cents to 40 cents according to the distance of the lumber pile from the docks.

It is said by some that the demands of wheat and general merchandise for cars will leave little left for lumber, but the railroad men say that there will be no great reduction in this, and that the rate will take quite a little business away from the boats.

Took the Degree.

The board of county commissioners is in receipt of a communication from the Duluth Logging and Contracting company, complaining of the condition of the bridges over the St. Louis River. The state says that they have been put in need of repair, and that the company has had several minor accidents because of the state of repair. The company says that it will wait for the day when there may be any damage that may occur in the future because of the condition of the bridges.

Coming to Duluth.

A dispatch from Stevens Point, Wisconsin, says: "The German weekly, the Stevens Point Post, has been discontinued after a short existence. The proprietor and editor, will assume a similar role in the office of the Duluth Superior Volksfreund, the German, L. H. Hause, the former German editor, will move to Duluth. Mr. Gertster, will move to Duluth. Mr. Gertster was formerly city editor of the Westside Journal in St. Louis."

May Take the Mill.

Negotiations are under way which may result in the opening up of the old Duluth Roller Mill. Extensive repairs will have to be made by the parties who may take the mill, as it has not been operated for several years.

Death of Mrs. Walsh.

Mrs. Margaret Walsh died this morning at 7 o'clock at her home, 21 West Fourth street, after an illness of six weeks. She was 48 years of age and has lived in Duluth for seven years. She leaves two children, two sons and three daughters. One of her daughters, Miss Elizabeth Walsh, owns the shoe store in the Hayes block.

Drove Them Out.

It was Parker, Duluth's fashionable tailor, who put stop to the coming of the soldiers for New York City and Twin City tailors. They could not meet his prices on high-class work. Parker is showing an elegant stock now at his parlors in the Metropolitan block.

RUSH SUDDENLY CEASED.

Decrease in the Number of New Cases Filed.

The rush of new cases for places on the calendar for the September term of district court that started yesterday morning did not hold out yesterday afternoon and this morning, and unless there were some accident, the calendar will not come up to expectations. Up to noon today the calendar numbered 100 cases, including forty criminal trials, and six civil cases, and six cases of record, and the witness said that he had only tendered door in a gambling joint, but he only went to admit this when Mr. Whipple was brought into the courtroom.

The witness recited his first jolt when Attorney Marshall asked him his occupation. It has been said that Mr. Smith is a gamblers, and the defense denied it, but he was called in with Mrs. Whipple on the evening of Aug. 2, and that they had been met on Mesabi street by Mr. Whipple's husband, who ordered him to take Mrs. Whipple home. On arriving at the witness' residence, Mr. Whipple had further ordered him to go in the house with Mrs. Whipple, which he refused to do and she shot him.

Oliver Mining Company Wants Cheaper Rate on Its Vermilion Ore.

WILL BUILD A ROAD

Will Run From Ely to Virginia
---Can Then Dictate
Terms.

Articles of incorporation of the Virginia & Ely Railroad company were filed in the office of the register of incorporation yesterday afternoon. The incorporators of the new company are: Bakers of New York, Oliver W. Oliver, Henry M. Curry, Jas. Garfield, Daniel M. Cannon, Charles D. Fraser, George T. Oliver, of Pittsburgh, and Chester A. Congdon, of Duluth. These men constitute the board of directors and the officers are as follows: Henry W. Oliver, president; Jas. Garfield, vice-president; C. D. Fraser, secretary; H. M. Curry, treasurer. The capital stock is $1,000,000 in shares of $100 each and the limit of indebtedness is $5,000,000.

The company is incorporated to the purpose of incorporation for the purpose of building a railroad from Virginia in a northeasterly direction to Ely, thence easterly to a point at or near the head of the Vermilion range, in 63-12, thence east or south, to a point in Lake or Cook county to be selected by the board of directors.

The filing of the articles would indicate that what a great many people have expected would some day come to pass, and that is to do. It is to be hoped that the Oliver Mining company does not propose to pay the railroads which now control the iron ore traffic of the range, the same rates as the Virginia, which they demand. The Oliver Mining company controls about three-quarters of the output of the Vermilion range. It has the Pigeon, the Zenas and the Savoy mines and has other properties which are to be developed. It also has large mines on the Mesabi range, and proposes to have the largest of the entire shipments from the Minnesota ranges. The Oliver Mining company and the National Steel company with the ore they use and these two concerns use more iron than all the others in the world put together.

Asks For a Divorce.

Mary A. Gross has asked the district court for a divorce from Frederick A. Gross, on the grounds of cruelty and drunkenness. They are 25 and 39 years respectively, and were married in Superior in 1891. The charge of cruelty consists of the allegations that defendant has struck the plaintiff, called her a "bitch," accused her of adultery, in the presence of others, and that he has struck her. STARTING FOR HOME

Soon All the Volunteers In Philippines Will Be En Route.

TIME OF SAILINGS

The Para Leaves Today and the Last Will Sail Sept. 7.

Washington, Aug. 31.—Gen. Otis today informed the war department of the departure of the transport Para from Manila in the following dispatch:

"Para leaves today. Fourteen officers, 410 enlisted and 224 discharged men; six civilians."

Another dispatch from Gen. Otis gives the dates of the sailing of the transports now at Manila, and which will bring all the state volunteers in the Philippines to this country. The cablegram says: "Tartar sails Sept. 3, Pennsylvania, Sept. 5, Newport and Ohio Sept. 7."

The state volunteers yet remaining in the Philippines in the order in which they left San Francisco for Manila are: First Washington, Twentieth Kansas, Third Minnesota, Fifty-third Iowa, trooper Nevada cavalry, and Wyoming battery. It is the policy of the war department to have the troops return in the transports, and these volunteers probably will come on the ships above named in the same order.

WILL NOT ATTACK IMUS.

The Filipinos Conclude Reception Would Be Too Warm.

Manila, Aug. 31.—5:30 p. m.—Dispatches just received from Gen. Aguinaldo that the American troops under Col. Bayless, with two field pieces, rallied near Manila and drove off a band of natives who reported that the American soldiers and who have been fighting the Spanish for the last two months, had been captured.

A message from Bayfield, Wis., advising them to play their cards well, and they will not go.

A FILIPINO HUNT.

Detachment Routes Out Band That Recently Ambushed Americans.

Manila, Aug. 31, 5:20 p. m.—Dispatches just received from Col. Aguinaldo that the American troops under Col. Bayless, with two field pieces, rallied near Manila and drove off a band of natives who reported that the American soldiers and who have been fighting the Spanish for the last two months, had been captured.

A message from Bayfield, Wis., advising them to play their cards well, and they will not go.

STRUCK THIS SPREEZE.

Lightning bolt strikes at West Duluth, during yesterday morning's storm. It tore some of the shingles off from the steeples of the Swedish Lutheran church, 57th and Superior, and a few west and Eleanor street, but the damage is small. It also struck a residence at West End and民主街, a tree at the corner of the third street room, across the floor diagonally, to a sewing machine and the wall, and the machine was charred over quite a space.

STRIKE AT MERRILL & BING'S.

Merrill & Bing's mill closed down this noon in consequence of a strike by the lumber pillars for $2.25 per day, an advance of 25 cents. The men demanded that there was nothing to be gained about the matter. The men at the St. Louis lumber company's mill are still out, but the men at the mills of W. & M. McClure have a small sized strike yesterday. Their boom men demanding $2.50 per day, an advance of 25 cents. It was stated that the men at the mill had returned to work at the old figure.

WEST DULUTH BRIDGES.

Frank Tins returned yesterday from trip to Houghton to look over the work on his big contract on the breakfast table. He is well pleased with the progress made.

Miss Grace Thompson, of Proctor, and Misses Anna, Misses Gertrude and Charlotte Mather.

The ladies of the Ellen Tonney Lodge, L. O. L. will give a calico ball at their hall this evening. A good time is assured.

disposal and the statement he had made to me was quite important and interesting to us to begin him to relate to the officers what he had just told me. I must add that Capt. D'Atell had been ordered to superintend matters, and his orders were to cause the officers to report everything which occurred in the office of the adjutant while Dreyfus was there, and that Dreyfus was conducted to the place of deposition. Throughout the ceremony the prisoner walked automatically. Afterwards, when he was called to the window, I stood in company with some officers in the passage Dreyfus traversed, and Dreyfus addressing the officers, said: "I have no objection to what would be done to me." I then entered the van and disappeared. After the ceremony I verbally reported to Gen. Guérin that Dreyfus had been particularly, the statements made by Dreyfus to Capt. Lebrun-Renault, and Capt. D'Atell, Capt. D'Atell also told M. Wunnenberg, architect of Dreyfus' headquarters, that Dreyfus had confessed."

Dreyfus—How do you reconcile his protest of innocence with his alleged confession?

Col. Guérin—That is not my business, M. D'Atell—You reported the confession to Gen. Guérin?

Col. Guérin—Certainly.

Col. Guérin—Was it suggested that steps be taken to verify the alleged confession?

MUST BE STOPPED

Mayor Will Start Campaign Against Those Who Dirty Superior Street.

GIVES RIGID ORDER

Police Must Arrest Janitors or Shopkeepers Who May Dump Their Sweepings.

Mayor has mapped out a plan of campaign against janitors and others who insist on dumping their sweepings on the ground for sweepings in dirty water. The mayor says if these people take no more interest in the reputation and health of the city than to continue this nuisance, after repeated warnings, it is high time to make a stand. The city authorities and the police have been ordered to arrest any janitor or shopkeeper in a place from which the dirt is swept out on the street.

This order will be rigidly enforced on the streets, and all people having horses and mules, as well as sweepers, will be required to use the street cleaning apparatus.

It is the opinion of the mayor that the city ordinance against sweepings on the ground, and pastures, has at last ceased to be a virtue. Hereafter these people will be compelled to use the apparatus, taken before the judge of the municipal court, and the names published as a warning to others.

The city officials say that a few examples will be sufficient to make the public aware that this practice is regarded fully as dangerous and unhygienic.

Mayor Trumbo, in speaking of the dirty street nuisance this morning said, that with the exception of the street cleaning purposes, it was impossible for the board of public works to keep the streets clean. The janitors and members of the board would like to, the cost of paving the city had enough to keep clean water was more than the city had, and there was no money available for keeping the streets clean.

The mayor said that from his investigation the water and drainage system would be purged out between Second Avenue and West and Fifth Avenue west, and the entire street cleaning work will be watched very closely. He says the streets in that section have probably the poorest drainage in the city, and are part of the city, but that is no excuse why sweepings and slop water should be dumped on the street.

The water and drainage system in the building is supplied with a drainage sink.

FOUND WHERE HE LEFT IT.

An Attorney Who Thought His Wheel Was Stolen,

There is an unusual excitement that Duluth is not so wicked. Early yesterday afternoon an attorney had occasion to ride his bicycle to a store on West Superior Street near Second Avenue. He placed his bicycle in the rear of the store, locking it, and after transacting his business, he forgot all about the wheel and walked back to the office. And when he returned to his bicycle he found it was broken. The police were returning from police headquarters when he passed the store and there was his wheel still in the rack. It had stood undisturbed and unattended on the most prominent street in town for twenty-four hours and no person spoke of it. When the attorney was aware of this, they said, it only took to prove that his wheel's fate was to be broken, and his wheel's reputation for wickedness would soon be changed to a reputation of Christian piety and meanness.

Starts a Damage Suit.

Late yesterday afternoon Wibdom & McMillan, attorneys for Alvin Johnson, filed papers in the municipal court in a damage suit against Luther Mendenhall, an attorney, and the Duluth Daily News, a newspaper company. The complaint charges that on June 11 last she was getting off a car at the corner of West Michigan street and Franklin Avenue, when she started up suddenly throwing her down and breaking her collarbone. The plaintiff asks for $1,000 in damages, which is $1 less than the maximum limit allowed in the municipal court.

Wants Them to Close.

President John McPherson of the Federated Trades Assembly, on the part of Duluth's labor organizations, has requested all business men to close their places of business on Saturday, Sept. 4 in order that all employees will have an opportunity to observe Labor Day. Nearly all the leading business men have already responded and it is now assured that practically all the stores will close.

Will Soon Arrive Here.

W. H. Goff has received a telegram from his son saying that he had arrived at San Francisco and is well and that he will arrive home in a few days. He has been in the Philippines with the First, North Dakota regiment and has seen much hard fighting. He was sick for some time but has recovered.

Has Lost His Mind.

Alfred Tangle was adjudged insane in probate court this morning and ordered sent to the Fergus Falls asylum, where he will be taken in a day or so.

Beginning Monday, August 28....

And ending Saturday, September 2, we offer Imported Table Cloths and Napkins, Luncheon and Tea Cloths and Sets at 10 PER CENT DISCOUNT. Imported Table Linens by the yard at 20 PER CENT DISCOUNT. Improve the opportunity. It will hardly occur again. Fall stock of Novelties now arriving.
